Hello,

I am very happy to announce the dates of the 3rd annual Women's tourney Huck o' the Irish (HOTI) for 2012, which will be the 25th and 26th of August. This year's event has a special treat lined up for the boys; for the first time an Open Division will run alongside it! This division will be run by the infamous Jabba the Huck.

It is not a coincidence that this date is the weekend after the end of WJUC. I hope that many of you coming from near or afar will avail of the opportunity to journey around the emerald isle for a week and finish it off with a rip-roaring weekend of Ultimate in our fine capital city.

This is of course a tournament for everyone however, so even if you have no involvement in WJUC, there'll still be 'cead mile failte' for those of you who want to join us.

At the moment we have no limit to the number of teams that can enter. Please register your interest or e-mail questions to huckotheirish@gmail.com and more details will be sent to you.
